
THIS IS THE TIME OF year when the various governmental agencies begin their annual wrestling matches with budgets for the next fiscal year.

In most instances the exact amounts of the budgets cannot be approved by the respective governing boards until the ending balances on June 30 are confirmed and the final property assessment figures have been ascertained.

So it is generally August when the final budgets are adopted.

But the warm-up skirmishes have already begun as the preliminary, preliminary offerings are now being presented in varying degrees of completion by budgetary officials.

However, the early presentations are generally prefaced with the explanation that the figures are subject to change when more information is obtained and the fiscal year's income and outgo amounts are finalized.

These first jabs and thrusts on the fiscal front can be compared, sort of, to wartime scouting expeditions or patrol actions that were used to determine strength and weaknesses of the enemy forces.

Not that there is any enemy around in these budgetary battles.

But there just might be differences of opinion.

And it is helpful to learn 'em early.

The differences, we mean.

IT IS TRUE THAT DRASTIC changes are often made in the preliminary budgets that are presented.

So, as a rule, the old pros on the scene don't blow too high when they view the preliminary drafts.

They know changes can and probably will be made before the final document wins approval.

But there has to be a starting place.

A case in point was the situation last week when City Manager Bob Stephens and Jeff Whittaker, finance director, unveiled projections of both revenue and expenditures of the city for the next fiscal year.

It was not a "preliminary budget" in the true sense of the word but merely a compilation, so to speak, of the requests of the department heads for both personnel and capital outlay projects for the next fiscal year.

Stephens hastened to assure the councilmen at the unveiling of that fact, emphasizing that this was a different approach than had been used in other years.

In previous years, Bob explained, along with the department requests, the city manager would also show his recommendations which, generally, were considerably less than those of the department heads.

Bob's explanation was necessary to keep some of the councilmen from climbing the wall.

Especially after they had noted that 19 additional personnel had been suggested for next year.

ONE OF THE CAPITAL outlay items that generated considerable discussion at the "unveiling" of the preliminary city projections for next year was a word processing machine setup (MTST) listed at $34,650 which would take three operators at $32,500.

As a human word "processor" to some degree for longer than we care to mention, obviously we were interested in this sophisticated piece of machinery proposed for the city hall.

The objective apparently is for a more efficient production of the thousands of words issued by city personnel in various forms.

Over-simplifying the whole bit, we understand in MTST the phone is used for the original dictation from which

UP 45% FROM PREVIOUS YEAR TO $27.4 MILLION

Retail sales in Campbell zoom to record high for fourth quarter in 1972

Taxable retail sales in Campbell during the fourth quarter of 1972 showed a fantastic increase of 45% over the same quarter in 1971, zooming to a record high of $27,480,000, a gain of $8.6 million from the previous year.

Service stations, because of the sales tax on gasoline which became effective on July 1, 1972, registered an outstanding gain in the quarter of $1.7 million.

BIG GAINERS

But it was the home furnishings category that ticked off the biggest increase, registering a $2.4 million hike going from $3.8 million in the fourth quarter in 1971 to $6.2 million in 1972.

Other big gainers in the quarter were eating places, increasing by $726,000, going from $1.7 million to $2.4 million and apparel stores jumping from $701,000 in 1971 to $1.4 million in the fourth quarter of 1972 for a gain of $766,000 in sales.

Only two categories in Campbell showed a decrease in sales from the previous year. General merchandise dropped $73,000, going from $844,000 to $771,000 and building materials declined from $2.5 million in 1971 to $2.4 million in 1972.

STATEWIDE RECORD

According to the taxable sales figures released statewide by the State Board of Equalization, the fourth quarter registered an unprecedented gain in the state going to a new high of $15.2 billion, an increase of $2.15 billion over the same period in 1971.

After adjusting the final quarter figure to eliminate the service stations' taxable sales (because of the new sales tax on gasoline), the 1972 fourth quarter sales in the state still exceeded 1971 by 10.7%.

Campbell's taxable sales for the fourth quarter outdistanced that of Los Gatos for the same period by almost $7 million ($27,480,000 to $20,503,000). Los Gatos showed an increase of $3.1 million over the previous year with the sales tax on gasoline accounting for almost $1 million of the local increase, compared to Campbell's total gain of $8.6 million.

AUTO SALES

As usual in Los Gatos, auto dealers and auto supplies carried the ball in that town with sales of $8.9 million, comprising a major portion of the total sales of $20.5 million for that town.

Cupertino showed a big increase in the fourth quarter going from $17.8 million in 1971 to $25.5 million in 1972 and topping Los Gatos by $5 million. In Cupertino, "general department stores" accounted for the biggest slice of the total with $9.1 million in sales registered in that category.

ALL CITIES

Taxable sales for all cities in the county for the fourth quarter (last year's figures in parentheses):

San Jose, $320.6 million ($253.9 million); Santa Clara, $87.1 million ($74.1 million); Palo Alto, $85.1 million ($60.3 million); Mountain View, $65.5 million ($56.3 million); Sunnyvale, $62.2 million ($48.7 million).

CAMPBELL, $27.4 million ($18.8 million); Cupertino, $25.5 million ($17.8 million); Los Gatos, $20.5 million ($17.3 million); Los Altos, $13.4 million ($11.5 million); Milpitas, $13.3 million ($9.5 million); Gilroy, $11.4 million ($9.3 million); Saratoga, $5.2 million ($4.1 million); Morgan Hill, $4.8 million ($4 million); Los Altos Hills, $412,000 ($261,000); Monte Sereno, $19,000 ($36,000).

CITY LETS CONTRACT FOR $139,228

Dell Ave. industrial park gets go signal

Successful low bidder on the improvement project in the Dell Ave.-Division St. industrial park area, was R. J. Zipse Paving Co. with a bid of $139,228.75, or 27% less than the engineer's estimate.

The contract for the long-awaited project that includes new streets, curbs and gutters, driveways, storm drainage and street lighting was awarded to the low bidder by the City Council on Monday night when Local Improvement District No. 17 was officially established.

The city engineer estimated that the city's share in the cost will be $14,097.10 with the balance paid from property assessments.

Bids were opened April 3.

Councilman Ralph Doetsch, who is a property owner in the area, was recorded as abstaining in the discussion and voting on the project.

In another street improvement action, the Council by resolution established an underground utility district on Hamilton Avenue from Salmar to Winchester. PG&E allocates funds each year for the undergrounding of utilities within the city limits.

On Monday night also the City Council established the first guidelines for the use of federal revenue sharing funds by adopting a resolution specifying that the funds received will be used only for specific capital improvement programs or projects to be determined on a sound cost analysis.

The Council also approved the application for a coin ope-

Fire gets help from gasoline

A fire early Sunday morning which destroyed a garage and pickup truck at 1885 S. Winchester Blvd., could have been deliberately set to cover up vandalism or burglary, according to Battalion Fire Chief Sal Leonardi who is investigating the blaze.

The garage, which was at the rear of the property, was destroyed, and an adjacent house on the lot had been doused with what appeared to be a mixture of gasoline and motor oil, according to investigating officers.

The property was rented by Gary C. Gerlach, owner of Golden State Vending Service. It was owned by Gerlach's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth R. Haynes, of 775 N. Harrison, Campbell.

Vending machines soaked with the same material were scattered about and a number of buckets were found with flammable liquid residue, according to the Police Agent Dan Ramseier, who discovered the blaze.

NO INCUMBENTS RUN IN CAMPBELL ELEMENTARY

Trustee elections take place next Tuesday, April 17

Voters in most of the school districts thorughout the area will go to the polls next Tuesday, April 17, to elect trustees. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The elections in the immediate area are to fill four-year terms on the governing boards with the main interest locally centered on the situation in the Campbell Union (elementary) School District where there are no incumbents on the ballot, but nine candidates are contesting for the three seats that are open.

As far as can be determined, this marks the first time in the Campbell elementary district that such a situation has occurred.

Thus on July 1 when the trustees elected next Tuesday take office, the "new" trustees will constitute the board majority.

Mrs. Eleanor Graham-Armstrong, Mrs. Judy Ruscigno and Ralph Steinberg, whose terms are expiring, are not seeking reelection.

The nine candidates on the Campbell Union (elementary) School District ballot are:

Gordon Abbott, accountant public relations; George P. Baker, engineer-cost analyst; Maria Flaherty, housewife; Robert G. Fricke, college instructor, Margaret M. Ota, housewife; J. W. Pattee, retired; Elizabeth Robledo Rodriguez, housewife, community worker; Carl E. Samuelson, accounting manager; Virginia (Jennie) Vaughn, housewife.

In the Campbell Union High School District there are three seats open on the governing board. Frank Bonnano, a board member for 10 years, is not seeking reelection but the other two incumbents, Dorothy Y. Goble and Vernon Rutlen, are on the ballot. There are four other candidates, Raymond B. Dillon, teacher; Ray A. Silva, chartered life underwriter; Steve Tedesco, student; Donald R. Thomas, systems engineer.

In the Cambrian School District, there are six candidates for three vacancies. Two of the incumbents, Jack M. Farnham and John H. Shehtanian, are on the ballot. The other four candidates are, Bennett D. Black, auditor; Donald E. Hopen, surveyor; James Duff, counselor; Carole Cooke, homemaker, community volunteer.

In the Moreland District, there are also six candidates for the three positions open. John A. Hibbert is the only incumbent. Other candidates are, Damon G. Nalty, college professor; Rodney E. Pease, accountant; James E. Maxson, teacher; Paul E. Haddon, quality assurance manager; David L. Towle, insurance broker.

There are four candidates for the two trustee posts for Area No. 1 (Los Gatos) on the West Valley College governing board. The two incumbents, William H. (Bill) Cilker and Mildred H. Wharton, and Luis Hernandez, educator, and Felix Gustavo Ortiz, business student, are the candidates.

Foster S. Lopes, incumbent, representing Area No. 2 (Santa Clara) had no opposition and his name does not appear on the ballot. Lopes was officially "appointed" to another four-year term last week by board action.

ISSUED DURING MARCH

Two commercial building permits top $1.5 million

Building permits for two commercial structures in Campbell that were issued in March exceeded $1.5 million and brought the total for all building permits for the first three months up to $4.3 million.

But the three-month total is still $1.5 million behind the same period last year. March in 1972 was a record-breaking month when permits totalled $5,084,226.

That was the month, incidentally, when permits were issued for a 10-story office building for Fred Sahadi ($2,425,860); the Gold Key furniture store ($1,829,500) and the California-Canadian Bank ($88,200).

Heading the list of permits issued this March was the one for Mervyn's Department Store, at 950 W. Hamilton, for $893,760 and for Koll Business Centers at 286 E. Hamilton for $640,675.

Al Davis was issued a permit for a 16-unit apartment complex at 1335 W. Campbell for $157,175.

There were two industrial building permits taken out during March. One was issued to O.H. Nelson, at 520 McGlincey Lane, for $184,800 and the other was to W.J. Mapes, at 581-B Division St., for $72,400.

Permits for alterations and additions totalled $32,328 and seven sign permits came to $7,950. There was one swimming pool permit for $2,800.

Lettuce to come up again

That seemingly endless lettuce boycott issue is scheduled once more to raise its head at the Campbell Union (elementary) School District board meeting this Thursday, April 12.

The board meets at 7 p.m. in the district office.

One of the letters on the agenda is from Mrs. Margaret Magdaleno, a vigorous advocate for the banning of iceberg lettuce in the schools' cafeterias in sympathy with the United Farm Workers campaign.

At Thursday's meeting the trustees are also expected to take the necessary steps to dedicate a portion of Hamilton Avenue in front of Hamilton School needed in the street widening project of the City of Campbell that will soon be under way.

The board is also expected to authorize the extension of the lease agreement with West Valley College for another year, from July 1, 1973 to June 30, 1974.

CONVERSION ISSUE—One of the items on the Planning Commission meeting agenda next Monday, April 16, is the request of C. T. Marotta for approval of plans for the conversion of the newly-remodeled residential building (above) at 145 Dillon Ave. for office use. The applicant also is requesting that the partially constructed garage be used for parking a truck on the lower floor and for storage of materials on the upper floor.

Also on the agenda next Monday are plans for a warehouse/office at 213 Cristich Lane for David R. Schrader and plans for a similar building at 1190 Dell Ave. for William F. Jury.

Plans for a cabinet shop at 1161 Dell for Christine A Gilbert and for an office for NPL Associates at 477 Division St. will also be up for consideration.

A continued public hearing is scheduled on the conversion of a residence into an office for Serafina Chinazzo at 2290 Winchester. A letter from the Chamber of Commerce opposing the conversions of residences into offices has also been submitted to the Planning Commission.

SOMETHING OLD - SOMETHING NEW—A new sign, "The Factory," on one of the main former Sunsweet brick-faced buildings calls attention to the transformation that is taking place, the conversion of an old Campbell landmark, the Sunsweet plant, into an 80,000 square foot shopping and entertainment center. The bricks have been sandblasted and barely discernable is the original sign that was painted on the structure... "GEO. H. HYDE & CO." George Hyde was the grandfather of Homer Hyde, former Campbell mayor.

The Press endorses

CAMPBELL ELEMENTARY

Next Tuesday, April 17, voters in school districts throughout the state will go to the polls and cast ballots for trustees.

We have long maintained that it is at the school district or local level where the individual voter can have the greatest influence. By the same token, we submit that actions taken by governing bodies at the lower echelons make more direct impact on the individual than at any other strata of government.

We mean, for example, that an action taken by a school board could and does directly affect every citizen in the district. In addition, school trustees have the awesome responsibility of establishing guidelines and policies that will have a tremendous influence on the type of education offered the youngsters.

We are well aware that the duties of trustees are pretty well defined within the framework of the state law.

On the other hand, the influence of the school trustees on educational policies through the setting of goals and priorities and in many other ways should not be underestimated.

While we maintain that the trustee elections in all school districts are important, we submit that in the Campbell Union (elementary) School District there is more at stake than in most of the other districts.

For more than two years the Campbell Union (elementary) School District has been divided by factions. This division has caused a disruption that we cannot afford.

In the election for members of the governing board of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District next Tuesday, unlike most of the other districts in the county, there are no incumbents on the ballot.

Three trustees will be elected next Tuesday which means, of course, that come next July, when the new trustees take office, the newcomers will constitute the majority on the board. This does not mean that the three newly-elected trustees, whoever they are, will form any "coalition". We merely point out the uniqueness of the situation.

As far as we have been able to determine, this marks the first time in the history of the Campbell school district that there have been no incumbents on the ballot in a trustee election.

There are nine candidates in the race for the three seats that are open.

The Campbell Press unhesitatingly endorses GORDON ABBOTT and GEORGE P. BAKER for two of the positions.

The Press does not make any recommendation for the third vacancy on the board but submits that several of the other candidates have excellent qualifications.

We do feel, however, that Abbott and Baker offer the balance and sincerity that will benefit the district.

Abbott resides in the northern part of the district where he has been active in Monroe Home and School Club affairs. Baker resides in the southerly portion of the district and has been active in Capri School functions.

Both of them have also been active for a long time in district-wide affairs.

We recommend the election of Gordon Abbott and George P. Baker next Tuesday, April 17.

CAMPBELL HIGH SCHOOL

There are three positions open on the board for the Campbell Union High School District and two incumbents, VERNON RUTLEN and DOROTHY Y. GOBLE, are seeking reelection.

The Campbell Press recommends the reelection of both incumbents.

Rutlen has been a board member for 10 years and has served as board president for the past two years.

Mrs. Goble has served on the board for eight years and is currently vice-president of the board.

We believe that the two incumbents have proved by their records that they deserve reelection and we heartily endorse them.

For the third position that is open on the high school board we recommend the election of RAY A. SILVA, a highly successful life insurance underwriter and a business and community leader who was formerly a teacher. Silva also was runner-up in the last election.

A graduate of San Jose State, Silva was coach at Camden High School before going into the life insurance profession.

The Press, therefore, recommends the reelection of Dorothy Goble and Vern Rutlen, incumbents, and the election of Ray Silva, to the Campbell Union High School District board of trustees next Tuesday, April 17.

tapes are made. But don't hold us to that general explanation.

As an interested observer, we note that the $34,650 machine needs three operators at an annual cost of $32,500.

Obviously, then, this is one time when it can't be said that a machine is replacing man (or woman).

Of course, there is one big advantage. It should increase the word output at the city hall.

-0-

FROM TIME TO TIME you have probably heard rumblings about "Parkinson's Law" and its relationship to bureaucracy in general, but at budget time in particular.

Some people get the "law" confused with the disease. But there is no connection.

"Parkinson's Law" was developed by a British author and historian as an exaggeration of a situation he thought existed in governmental operations universally.

The idea, as stated facetiously as a law in physics, specifies that work expands to fill the time allotted to it.

In other words, Parkinson claimed that a worker slowed his working pace or embellished a task so that he did not finish it ahead of schedule.

So now you know what "Parkinson's Law" is.

Do you know of any examples of its application?

-0-

LESS THAN ONE WEEK remains before the school trustee elections and, of course, as is true in every election during the last week, the pressure builds up in direct relationship to the nearness of the balloting.

Even when the outcome can be pre-determined (and that has been true in some campaigns), there is still a certain amount of suspense until the polls are closed.

We have known a lot of candidates in our time and, even the ones who appeared outwardly calm and serene, generally were seething inside.

Elections seem to do that to people.

But there are exceptions when candidates don't have to worry.

Take the case of Foster S. Lopes, a member of the governing board of West Valley College, as a classic example.

Lopes, who was elected to the college board in 1969, had filed and WAS "running," to use the word loosely, for his second term on the board.

We use the past tense because Lopes last Thursday was "appointed" by his fellow board members to his second term and took his oath of office. His name will not even appear on the ballot.

The "campaign" and election is all over for him.

And it's all legal.

AS YOU HAVE PROBABLY gathered by this time, Lopes had no opposition for reelection when filing time closed on February 16 for all trustee elections (from elementary schools through community college).

He was the lone candidate for the one position representing the Santa Clara area on the board.

That, of course, is not a bad way to "run."

Actually it really is only a jog or a walk, not a run.

But when our sample ballot listed only the candidates for area number 1 (Los Gatos) of West Valley College before "end of ballot," and nothing else, we wondered what had happened to Lopes.

We got our answers from Mrs. Isma Bennati, of the registrar of voters office.

A new section of the election code specifies that no election is necessary when there are only enough candidates to fill the vacancies when the filing closes.

It allows for a write-in candidate, provided the proper petition is filed in time.

The state law provides that when there are only enough candidates for the spots that are open, the names of those candidates do not have to appear on the ballot.

And those candidates will be "appointed" to the board before the scheduled election.

Thus Lopes was "appointed" last Thursday.

It is a little confusing.

Because, by a relatively recent state law, elections must be held for vacancies that occur on governing boards. It used to be that such vacancies were filled by appointment.

But not any longer.

Except.

College tries for parking

Trustees of West Valley College last week authorized a proposed agreement with the City of Saratoga establishing an off-street parking assessment district.

The cost of the district is estimated at $838,000 and, in effect, the district will assess itself to pay for the 827 parking spaces. The college district does not have the authority to pay for the improvement and that is why the City of Saratoga comes into the picture. However, the city will have no fiscal liability.

The City of Saratoga is scheduled to hold a hearing on the issue on May 16. The assessment district will be for a year's duration and it is estimated that the liability could be retired with a college districtwide tax of 10 cents.

The college, two years ago, tried to get Saratoga to establish a combination parking and recreation district which would have been spread over 10 years and would have cost about three times what is estimated that the proposed parking district will cost.

In other actions, the board approved the closing of the college offices from 12-5 p.m. on Good Friday, April 20, and awarded the contract for the landscaping project of the business education - student personnel administration complex at the Saratoga campus to Collishaw Inc. of Santa Clara and for the completion of the Fruitvale Avenue parking addition to B & K Landscaping of Redwood City.

NO ROTATING

Despite the plea of Albert J. Ruffo, prominent San Jose attorney, that the rotating sign at Carrow's Restaurant on Camden Avenue was not in violation of the original permit granted for a stationary sign, the City Council on Monday night upheld the Planning Commission and directed that sign come to a stop. The matter was before the Council on appeal.

In another appeal case, at the request of Bill Smeed, attorney representing Gold Seal Realty, the Council deferred action for two weeks. Gold Seal has been denied a use permit to convert a residence into an office at 492 Nottingham Way.

Disaster?

How well is this city prepared if a disaster strikes?

City of Campbell key personnel from 8 a.m. until noon tomorrow (Thursday), will "test" the soundness of the city's emergency operations plan through a series of simulated disaster exercises.

Representatives from the University of Southern California and from the Santa Clara County emergency offices will be on hand to conduct the exercises.

"Simulators" will present hypothetical situations that could arise under an emergency situation and City Manager Bob Stephens and department heads will have the responsibility to come up with solutions to these hypothetical problems.

Del Mar High School gets five-year accreditation

With high commendations for administration, teachers, and students the Western Association of Schools and Colleges has granted Del Mar High School a five-year accreditation, according to district officials. The five-year term is the longest granted by the association.

The Western Association of Schools and Colleges is a non-partisan board of state educators. Their official approval is given only after lengthy and critical observation of the schools.

At Del Mar, a seven member visitation committee spent three days on the campus inspecting the school plant, equipment, and learning materials, observing classes, and conferring not only with administrators but with all teachers and many students.

In their official report sent to District Superintendent N.R. Montesano and Harold Sonntag, Del Mar principal, the committee commended the "teachers and counsellors for their commitment to Del Mar students and the program the school offers". Students were commended "for their enthusiasm, appearance, and approach to their educational program at Del Mar High School."

The committee pointed out for special commendation: "Those members of the faculty who have given of their time and efforts without monetary rewards to make substantive changes in their curriculum"; the administrative staff "For their openness with faculty, students, and community and their genuine concern for an exemplary program"; the classified staff (office, cafeteria, custodial personnel) for their cooperation, efficiency, and obvious dedication to the school."

Specific observations in all departments from math to physical education drew such excellent commendations as: "the innovative use of methods and media in teaching"; "individualized instruction"; "developing not only a sequential program but new elective courses"; "sympathetic rapport and getting girls interested in industrial arts and providing new foods classes for both boys and girls in home economics"; "the determination of teachers to satisfy the needs of a wide spectrum of student abilities"; "for making subjects more interesting with use of audio-visual materials"; for "active involvement of students in classes and school activities."

The report noted that of the 70 teachers at Del Mar, all have AB degrees with additional advanced training, 25 have MA degrees and two, a Ph.D. "To the credit of Del Mar all are teaching in their subject areas."

The few recommendations for improvement are in directions the district has already undertaken such as changes in the budgeting system for supplies and replacements; development of new courses and that some classes such as home-making be made elective, not required; that modifications be made to allow longer class time blocks in areas such as laboratory science; and that staffs explore resources to aid students in making the next step after high school.

rated toy gun arcade in the Bodega as submitted by Syzygy Co., at an annual fee of $30 per machine.

Moreland Little League was granted permission to hold a fund-raising carnival in the Campbell Center shopping center June 6-10. The fee for the operation was waived.

The Council also decided to put a for sale sign on the engineering building at Third and Grant. The building will be vacated next month when the public works department moves into the engineering wing of the city hall.

City planning officials have recommended that the highest and best use of the property would be for a duplex. City building officials have estimated it would cost $48,709 to bring the building on the property up to code, plus an annual maintenance charge of $7,875.

Ben J. Gullo, chairman of the Youth Commission, in a letter to the Council, submitted that the Youth Commission had recommended that the building be sold and funds used toward the construction of a community center building at Rincon Park.

The Council, by a unanimous vote, approved a new maintenance policy for the Pony League baseball field in the city-owned Rincon Park.

Under the policy, as recommended by the Public Works Department, the city will pay an estimated $1,425 to bring the baseball field into a state of readiness for the league opening on April 21.

The Council also approved the expenditure of another $840 for maintenance of the field until the end of the fiscal year. It was also estimated that supplies would cost $250 during that time.

Sanitation District holds line with 24-cent tax rate

County Sanitation District No. 4 will hold its tax rate to 24 cents as it has for the past four years, according to Steve Goodman, district manager and engineer.

Goodman explains that by the passage of SB90, a bill freezing special districts at their 1972/73 tax rate, in effect, challenged districts to hold the line on taxes, and Sanitation District 4 has every intention of meeting the challenge.

The district administrators plan to continue holding to the 24-cent rate for the next five years as well.

In order to hold to the low tax rate, however, the district will have to use its encumbered reserves of $1,307,020 for sewage treatment capital costs, double its sewer service charges in 1977, as well as borrow $185,000 for a three-year period.

By borrowing money from a bank or another governmental agency, the district hopes to avoid the expensive process of bond election. Also, the district's financial plan anticipates receipt of $10,543,000 Federal/State grants, which will be used to reduce the district's financial obligation toward the San Jose-Santa Clara Water Pollution Control Plant expansion to meet higher water quality standards, estimated to cost $13,848,000 through the year 1979.

If the Federal/State grants do not materialize as anticipated, the district will have to hold a bond election to provide for its share of the Treatment Plant expansion.

In order to meet the more stringent state requirements for the quality of water discharged into the San Francisco Bay, treatment plant operating costs are also continuing to rise. A 10% annual increase from the fiscal year 1973-74 appropriation of $314,300 is anticipated through the year 1977, then a 300% increase is expected in 1978 when advanced wastewater treatment and conveyance facilities are expected to be put into operation.

Based on economic cost-benefit analyses, the district plans to continue its pump abandonment program and allocated $56,000 for this program. The district also allocated $30,000 for funding an annual contract for construction of laterals in a public street, in lieu of the present practice of allowing many different contractors to construct laterals in streets.

Operational personnel changes include employing full time clerk and two part-time maintenance men for the district's maintenance department, offset by not filling a vacated clerical position in the business department.

In addition to its proposed tax levy of 24 cents, the district would continue its $24 annual service charge per year for each single family dwelling and proportional amounts on multiple dwellings and commercial and industrial establishments to fund its proposed $2,552,030 operating budget.

The District Board of Directors, comprised of the mayors, or their representatives, of Campbell, Los Gatos, Monte Sereno, San Jose, Saratoga and Santa Clara, and chairman of County Board of Supervisors, will conduct hearings on the proposed budget at its board meetings of April 12 and 25.

CITY VS. CHEZ

A cross complaint has been filed in the Superior Court by the City of Campbell against Fred Chez, local developer, who last week filed a suit against the five councilmen and Joyce H. S. Kealoha over the rezoning of property at 1849 Pollard Road to allow a dog kennel.

City Attorney Bob Dempster said that the cross complaint charges that Chez is attempting to impede land use planning within the city. A companion action suit seeks $10,000 in exemplary damages from Chez.

Three Campbell schools picked for new program

The Campbell Union School District has selected Cypress, Moorpark and Sherman Oaks Schools to participate in the state's newly funded Early Childhood Education Program.

Funding is based on $130 per child, with an additional amount of $65 per child diagnosed as being educationally disadvantaged.

Advisory committees at each of the participating schools are initiating the comprehensive task of program development. Personnel and budgetary needs are also being determined at the local level.

Recommended staffing for Early Childhood Programs is one adult for each child. To accomplish this, parent aides will have to be used in the program. Where the Early Childhood Education school includes children whose first language is not English, it is recommended that aides be hired who speak the language of those pupils.

Other program components include staff development, parent education and participation, intergroup and intercultural activities, and a wider use of auxiliary services.

In Campbell, plans have been developed to move all 17 schools with primary grades into the program by the year 1979. Additional schools will become involved each year, based on successful implementation and evaluation of schools in the program the previous year.

APPOINTED --- Foster S. Lopes, a member of West Valley College governing board, has been appointed to his second term. He faced no opposition in the April 17 election. Under a new state law his name will not appear on the ballot. The board ordered his appointment last Thursday, after which he was administered the oath of office.

A Wilcox High School teacher, Lopes was elected to the college board in July, 1969 after Jack Armstrong retired. He represents the Santa Clara district on the board. His new term of office will begin July 1.

Planetarium show opens

Dynamic examples of cosmic distances will be illustrated during West Valley College's newest public planetarium show which began here last Friday.

Planetarium show narrator Rick Mielbrecht will explore some of the new astronomical discoveries which help scientists construct theory about the universe. Mielbrecht will be speaking in terms of light years, (the distance that light travels at 186,000 miles per second in one year) when he discusses super nova star explosions, pulsars, "black holes" and other cosmic phenomena.

Reservations for the Friday night planetarium shows, which begin at 7:30 p.m., can be made by calling the Office of Community Services at 379-1733, ext. 58.

Passing the Buc

by Sandy Mann

Greetings! Hey---can you believe the weather we've been having!? In two weeks we have climatically traveled from the Alaskan Yukon, to the Brazilian Rain Forests, to summertime in New York! Actually, it's not QUITE that bad, but the smog in this prune pit makes for an adequate facsimile. Ahh well... forging our way onwards...

"PANDORA'S BOX" A STEP IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION

Campbell's fourth period P.E. Modern Dance class held it's first annual dance recital last Thursday, the 5th, and though they may not have been Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers, the three things they did have were variety, determination and Me.

The variety kept the audience on it's toes, with songs from "Theme from Summer of '42" to "Monster Mash", to "In the Mood", to the rumble music from "West Side Story."

They had determination, because the way things were going, the local bookies were taking odds that we'd never get it on the stage.

And as for me being the narrator for the whole thing, that's why it was so doubtful in the first place.

But me notwithstanding, it was a pretty good show over all, and everybody had a good time, and I guess that's what counts.

CAMPBELL STUDENTS EXPLORE STANFORD ACCELERATOR

Six Campbell students (including me), as well as a few others from around the district, traveled by bus to the Stanford Linear Accelerator Center Thursday, March 22, as a part of a series of field trips for students enrolled in the district-wide Mentally Gifted Minor program.

Accompanied by Mr. Aldridge, the MGM supervisor at Campbell, the students toured the facilities and the surrounding areas, and learned the purpose, power, size and limitations comprising both the Stanford Mark III and two mile long accelerator.

"The purpose of the accelerator is to investigate the sub-structure of matter," remarked our guide and Ph.D. candidate Steve Farmer. "To date", he continued, "we have 200 atomic particles that can be created and destroyed in our small accelerator."

Stanford's two mile long masterpiece is revered as the most powerful "microscope" on earth. It can see into the nucleus of an atom and analyze a particular element in it.

The "best" of their two accelerators is two miles long, perfectly straight to a 25th of an inch over-all, and is situated ten feet underground. It is built with steel reinforced concrete walls three feet thick, that was poured in one continuous slab to prevent seams or cracking.

The accelerator is situated one half mile from the San Andreas Fault. "However", noted our guide, "we have calculated that when the rest of California falls into the ocean, we'll still be here, calmly accelerating electrons."

He also told us that electrons being shot down the tunnel reach a speed of .9997 times the speed of light, only three billionth of a part away from the speed of light.

"At that speed, time slows, and mass condenses. So by the time the electron comes to the end of the tunnel, the entire tunnel is only 26 inches long", calculated Steve.

"We just keep finding smaller and smaller particles," he added. "No one knows where the cycle really ends. I hope we never do, though," he said with a grin, "or I'll be out of a job."

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

WED., APRIL 11 at 3:30 is track at Los Gatos.

THURS., APRIL 12 also at 3:30 is F/S baseball against Del Mar here, and Varsity baseball and tennis at Del Mar.

Library has puppet party

Campbell Library celebrates spring vacation with a puppet party on Thursday, April 19 at 4 p.m.

"The Princess and the Pea," "The Shoemaker and the Elves," and "Little Red Riding Hood," are the three performances scheduled by puppeteers, Molly Wright and Suzannah Barbour.

The two librarians are presenting the program as a preview of other events scheduled at the library this summer.

Campbell youngsters and puppet buffs are invited to come and enjoy the festivities. The library is located at 349 E. Campbell Ave., at the corner of Central Avenue.

A CASE OF OVERSELL

The display in the window of the Mountain Life store, 2513 Winchester Blvd., proved too compelling for one individual.

In the early hours Monday, Campbell police discovered the front window smashed.

Missing...a sleeping bag and one gas camping stove.

Campbell students named state scholars last week

Thirty-four Campbell residents were among students named State Scholars last week.

Selected from among some 44,000 applicants, the 11,193 awards are available up to a maximum of $2,200, not to exceed the actual cost of tuition and fees.

Also announced were names of students who have selected Community College Reserve Scholarships, which enables students attending two-year colleges to have their scholarships held in reserve until they attend a four-year institution.

Students and their schools are: Patrick Tunison, University of Santa Clara; Terrence McGaw, U.C., Davis; Ivalee Ingraham, West Valley College; Daniel Heaviside, De Anza College and Noel Gibeson, West Valley College.

Campbell High School students named are: Luann Bingham, David R. Buell, Lynn Eldredge, Terry Eto, Joan Evans, Judy Gucinski, Mary Hillier, Carol Hovell, Daryl Mc Carthy, Marsha Nishi, Cheryl Phillips, Connie Sinn, Mary Weslow and Pamela Wong.

Westmont students include: Gina Bossi, Elizabeth Burkhouse, Mary Burkhouse, Valerie Cosgrave, Carolyn Danahy, Roderick Fraser, Rachel Garcia, Sandra Martin and Byron Tobey.

Del Mar High School students are: Scott Russell, April Roberts and Elizabeth Chalmers.

Other students listed were Owen Kim of Blackford High School and Alan Deshields and James Finnell of Camden High.

Bethels join for potluck

Bethels 298 and 174 of Campbell Job's Daughters, hosted a potluck dinner at the Grange Hall, Saturday, March 31, for Mrs. Evelyn Simon, Grand Guardian and Bud Lindquist, Associate Grand Guardian for the state of California.

Colored paper butterflies and flowers decorated the tables and walls of the hall for the meeting which was attended by some 200 people.

An initiation meeting was conducted for the honored guests by both Bethels. Among initiates were Loree Bozarth and Kathy Benn, who were initiated into Bethel 298. Initiated into Bethel 174 were Cynthia Becker, Kristen Holmes and Dianne Lower. Sheri Boswell was initiated into Bethel 220, the Hollister Bethel.

After the ceremony the combined Bethels joined in singing "Let There be Peace on Earth" and then presented the honored guests with a wall plaque as a memento of their visit.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

by Ellie Rumbaugh

In March the Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds from Leitz School had their annual Father-Daughter dinner. This year each girl and her father baked a cake and decorated it. The cakes were voted on by all present. There were four categories: the most original, the prettiest, the cutest, and the funniest.

After dinner they held a Ceremonial in which the fourth and fifth grade Camp Fire Girls received their ranks and the third grade Blue Birds received their seven craft charm bracelets. There were 60 girls and their fathers who took part in this event. A good time was had by all.

Contest announced for local high school "Shutter Bugs"

The deadline is nearing for entries in the fourth annual high school photo contest, "Print '73."

Prints for entry into the contest must be received by the photography department of West Valley College's language arts division no later than Friday, April 13. West Valley's photo department is sponsor of the contest.

According to West Valley photo instructor, Michael Leary, each high school in the area may enter a total of 20 black and white prints - 10 prints in each category of general interest and sports.

The prints will then be judged by a committee and gift certificates worth $20, $15 and $10 each will be given to the first, second and third place winners respectively.

The awards will be announced April 27 during an open house at the language arts complex on the Saratoga campus.

Those interested in entering the contest may contact Leary at the Saratoga campus, 867-2200, ext. 317.

Methodist ladies plan annual spring luncheon

"Take a friend to lunch" on Thursday, April 26, suggest the ladies of the First United Methodist Church, The occasion is their Third Annual Spring Luncheon, which will, this year, follow the theme "Happy Birthday."

Highlight of the day will be a musical program presented by The Chamber Singers of San Jose State University. The well-known group, directed by Dr. Charlene Archebeque, will appear at 11 a.m. in the Church Sanctuary.

Colorfully decorated tables featuring birthday and holiday decor for every season of the year may be viewed prior to the program. Doors will open at 10 a.m. Culmination of the day will be the luncheon planned for 12:15 p.m.

Reservations may be made by calling the church office, 378-3472, before Thursday, April 19.

Mrs. George Cleveland is General Chairman for the day, with Mrs. Richard Hoyt as her Co-chairman. Assisting them will be Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Richard Lamy, Mrs. John Bergthold, Mrs. Elsworth Wisler and Mrs. Robert Lundorff decorating special birthday cakes.

Chairmen are Mrs. Lamy, program; Mrs. Tony Uchytil, decor; Mrs. Vernon Gring, hostesses; Mrs. Joseph Snyder and Mrs. Ralph Costello, lunch; Mrs. Herbert Leitz, tickets; Mrs. Bergthold, clean-up; Mrs. Mae David, child care; and Mrs. Earl Wight, publicity.

TAKE A DEEP BREATH--- Mrs. Richard Hoyt, left, watches while Mrs. George Cleveland blows out candles on symbolic birthday cake. The pair are chairmen for the Third Annual Spring Luncheon of the First United Methodist Church women, who will feature birthday table decorations at their luncheon on Thursday, April 26.

At the turn of the century, one in every 500 Americans died annually of typhoid fever and cholera; today these diseases are practically unknown in this country.

Hawaiian honeymoon for couple

In an afternoon mass at St. Lucy's Church in Campbell, Gail Marie DeRosa became the bride of Richard Nicholas Salice in a double ring ceremony performed by Rev. Gerald Horan.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William DeRosa of Campbell. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Salice, former residents of Campbell who now reside in Patterson, California.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her costume was an ivory lace empire styled full length gown. An ivory finger tip veil complimented by a camelot headpiece completed her ensemble.

A bouquet of ivory roses, baby's breath, German statice and ivory carnations was carried in her hands.

Mrs. Duino (Jackie) Giordano of Los Gatos served as matron of honor and Marcia Whispell, sister of the bride; Mrs. John Moore, Miss Judy Davis and Mrs. Nicholas Hyland served as bridesmaids. Each wore a red taffeta floor length gown with an ivory lace bodice and a matching broad brimmed hat of ivory lace. They also carried baskets of red roses, ivory carnations and German statice.

Diane Conlan, cousin of the groom, wearing a long red taffeta dress, served as flower girl and Todd Whispell, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. DeRosa chose a pink polyester gown with a sequin trim, on which was fastened a pink cymbidium corsage. Her accessories included pink shoes and bag.

Mrs. Salice, Sr., wore a pale blue chiffon gown with sequin and pearl trim, pale blue shoes and bag and a cymbidium corsage.

Dennis Varnie of Los Gatos served as best man. Guests were seated by ushers Roger Salice, brother of the groom, Dennis Lorenzini, Charles Cordova and Michael Lo Bue.

Vocal selections were offered by Marilyn and Dale Barcellos.

A dinner dance reception for 600 guests at St. Michaels Serbian Hall in Saratoga followed the ceremony.

The bride, a 1967 graduate of Mother Butler Memorial High School, attended West Valley College and is now manager of Foxmoor Casuals at Valley Fair in San Jose.

The groom, a 1962 graduate of Campbell High School, attended Oregon State University and is now employed at Lombardo Electric Company.

After a honeymoon trip to the Hawaiian Islands the couple will make their first home in Monte Sereno.

Local students winners in Achievement program

Louise Johnson of Westmont (science and math), and Nancy Feineman of Prospect (fine arts) received $50 as fourth place finalists.

Scholastic records and participation in school and community activities were the basis of student winners in addition to interviews before a panel of business, professional and civic leaders.

In addition, local student winners of plaques for outstanding achievement went to: Diane Lamy, fine arts; John Perry, liberal arts; Jim Finnell, science and math; and France Bernard, vocational arts, all of Camden High. Scott Russell, science and math; Marshal Fong, fine arts, and Kathy Polisso, vocational arts, all from Del Mar.

Louise Murphy, fine arts; Tim Ford, liberal arts; Laurie Edwards, science and math, and Nancy O'Connell, vocational arts, Blackford.

Joann Koch of Westmont, won honors for vocational arts, while Prospect students Cynthia Flanagan, liberal arts, and Deborah Cady, vocational arts, also won plaques.

Local youth in music festival

Ten Campbell youngsters will participate in the second annual Music Festival at San Jose State University on Saturday and Sunday, May 5 and 6.

Sponsored by the National Piano Foundation, in conjunction with local Contemporary Group Piano Teachers, the festival will feature a planned program from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in rooms 157, 161 and 183 of the college music building.

Campbell music teacher Eloise Bouy'e will accompany local students; Kathleen Reid, Maureen Sepulveda, Melanie Peterson, Brenda Ferrel, Lanette Bell, Laura and Mark Spaugh, Bruce Watts, Cindy Campbell and Pam Haggett.

Holland speaks at convention

Third annual convention of the Junior Woman's Clubs of Loma Prieta District has been set for Saturday, April 28, at the San Jose Hyatt House.

Keynote speaker will be Dr. Jack Holland, professor of management at San Jose University. A well-known lecturer and contributor to several professional and religious journals, the professor's topic is, "Man's Victorious Spirit (How to Release the Victory Within You)".

Workshops are planned for that morning, with a luncheon honoring the state officers and chairmen following.

Car wash fund-raiser set by Prospect High

Saturday and Sunday, April 14 and 15, Prospect High School's marching band members will hold a car wash at Don Sodderman's Phillips 66 Station, corner of Saratoga and Graves avenues. Cars will be washed for a donation of $1. Tickets may be purchased from any band member in advance or there that day.

This is the first fund-raising activity to raise money for a trip to Disneyland. The band will perform at Disneyland on June 16. Other fund-raising activities organized and sponsored by the Marching Band Parents Boosters Club to raise money for the transportation and lodging are: Mother-Daughter Luncheon, Bike-A-Thon, Decal and Bumper Sticker Sale, etc.

Dance class still open

Bagby School is the site of both beginning and intermediate dance classes, held each Thursday evening, beginning at 7 p.m.

The Waltz, Cha Cha, Tangc and Foxtrot are being taught to area residents by Jerry Boyes of the San Jose Parks and Recreation Department.

Openings remain in both classes and interested residents should call 286-3626 for more information.

OUR TOWN

by JoAnn Zoller

The LEGIONNAIRES of the CAMPBELL MOOSE LODGE, though not usually known for 'cloak and dagger', last Friday night took a 'mystery bus trip' arranged by member JOE CASCIO. When the bus driver finally let them off, the Legionnaires had a delightful evening of dining and dancing at the Officers' Club at Moffett Field...

KEN and CAROL CASTEEL hosted a cocktail party recently at their home on Queens Court in celebration of Ken's new position as Director of Occupations and Career Education for the Mountain View-Los Altos High School District.

Among guests attending from the school district were the superintendent, Dr. Dan Predovich and his wife Peg, Dr. and Mrs. Fred Chancellor, Dr. Paul Sakamoto and Dr. and Mrs. Pete Messa...

GEORGE and LORENE VAN SICKLE of Leigh Ann Place recently attended a reunion for the 1971 officers of the Order of Eastern Star held at Rickey's Hyatt House in Palo Alto. Lorene said over 300 guests from all over the state attended the weekend of activities.

Friday evening the group enjoyed races at Bay Meadows, where a race was named after Past Grand Matron MRS. ELSIE K. MITCHELL.

The Order of Eastern Star is celebrating its 100th anniversary in California this year and in keeping with that theme Saturday night guests wore early California costumes to the dinner dance held at the hotel...

More from the O.E.S...

MARION GRUVER, Deputy Grand Matron of district 42, will make her official visit to the Campbell Chapter 553 of the Order of the Eastern Star, Friday, April 13. Worthy Matron TOPSY THOMPSON and Worthy Patron RAY THOMPSON will preside at the 8 p.m. meeting to be held in the IOOF Hall, 276 East Campbell Avenue...

Best Wishes to JOHN and EDITH MORLEY of El Patio Drive, who celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, April 8. A reception in their honor was given by their daughter GERALDINE and son-in-law ROBERT KREDEL at their home on Merida Drive...

Congratulations to JAMES and JOSEPHINE COGLIANESE of Husted Avenue, who will celebrate their 37th wedding anniversary this Friday...

MR. and MRS. JAMES ERKMAN, SR. of Delgado Court, are very pleased with their son JAMES, JR.'s recent employment transfer from New York to California. James, who works for Electronic Data Systems, his wife EVELYN and their two sons, ALAN and STEVEN, arrived here last month and have taken up residency in Milpitas...

Friends of RICHARD RIOS, Director of Economic Social Opportunities, will be happy to learn he is much better and has returned to work following his surgery last month for a back ailment...

The high school youth of IMMANUEL UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH along with the youth from several other Presbyterian churches in the area including TRINITY and SARATOGA UNITED are in for a special holiday Sunday, April 15 to Wednesday, April 18, when they will attend the annual Easter Conference to be held at Camp Corralitas...

Plans are also nearing completion for a Spiritual Growth Retreat in Carmel April 17 and 18 for the junior high and high school youth of the FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH of Campbell...

Another Easter time trip scheduled is by members of the CHURCH OF CHRIST OF CAMPBELL who have a trip to Mexico on their agenda for April 14 to 26.

GARDEN CLUB

A tour of members' gardens will highlight the Wednesday, April 18, meeting of the Blossom Valley Garden Club beginning at 9:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. E. Hoey.

APRIL 11:

On this date in 1918, the first U. S. patrol over enemy lines by an observation squadron was flown during WWI by the I Corps Observation Squadron, flying biplace Spads.

'Clowning with Fashions' is Guild event

TWO-HEADED BOY — After seeing the two-headed boy (Warren Jaques and Stephen McKay), St. Lucy's Guild models Valerie Auger and Jo Lynn Meduri decide their own brothers aren't really so bad. St. Lucy's "Clowning With Fashions" show is set for Friday, April 13, at the church hall, 2350 Winchester Blvd. at

CRACKING THE WHIP—Mrs. Paul Calleja, St. Lucy's Mothers' Guild president, looks a bit apprehensive as fashion show commentator Mrs. Philippe Auger clowns for the camera. "Clowning With Fashions," is set for Friday, April 13, in St. Lucy's hall.

A PROBLEM — Strongman Paul Calleja seems to be having trouble getting his weights off the ground as models Colleen McCarthy and Kathy Grim seem to have his undivided attention. The trio will participate in St. Lucy's Mothers' Guild fashion show on Friday, April 13, in the church hall.

"Clowning With Fashions," is the theme of the St. Lucy's Mothers' Guild fashion show on Friday, April 13, at 8 p.m. in the church hall, 2350 Winchester Blvd.

An array of home-sewn fashions for women, teens and children will be shown. Men of the parish will model the latest in men's attire and on stage, in addition to the models, will be a circus family which will include a bearded lady, a unicycle rider, a two-headed boy, a tattooed man, a fat lady and clowns.

Champagne, favors, door prizes and dessert and coffee will be offered that evening. Donations are $3.50. For ticket information call 377-1896.

Chairmen for the event are Mrs. John F. McKay and Mrs. John Jaques, assisted by Mrs. Philippe Auger, Mrs. Anthony Meduri, Mrs. William Hennessey, Mrs. Nicholas Dileanis, Mrs. John Scalmanini, Mrs. David Christian, Mrs. Frank Ambrosini, Mrs. Bennie Montalbano, Mrs. Steve Carusa, Mrs. Leo Raiche, Mrs. Joseph Barge and Mrs. Tony Rodriguez.

RUMMAGE SALE

Young Ladies Institute will hold a rummage sale on Friday and Saturday, April 25 and 26 at 342 Campbell Ave., from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Edith Childs and Delphine Vierra are co-chairmen of the event.

ART SHOW—John Bradshaw is one of eight artists whose paintings are featured in a display of art work to be shown Friday, Saturday and Sunday, April 13, 14 and 15 at the PruneYard Shopping Center.

Artists display at PruneyYard

The PruneYard Shopping Center will host a display of art work by eight Northern California painters Friday, Saturday and Sunday, April 13, 14 and 15. The show will be presented by Margaret Kanner, director of Art Ventures of Redwood City.

Artists featured in the show are: John Bradshaw, who specializes in rustic scenes and wildlife and is noted for the realism of his painting; Helen Reichle, a teacher of commercial art at Sacramento City College, a landscape artist, and Paul Moon, who studied painting in Paris and is best known for his seascapes and redwood trees.

John Checkley, known for his watercolors of San Francisco; Harl Nobles, who studied art in New York and Philadelphia and paints people and varied subjects; J. E. Lambrecht, whose favorite subjects are old barns and windmills; Richard Booker, well known for his paintings on cork and Tom Garvin, who works in oils, are among the noted artists whose works appear in the three-day show.

Two of the artists will do "art in action." The public is invited to meet the artists and view the large selection of paintings throughout the Gran Plaza and walkways of the center.

Nursing instructor named outstanding educator

A West Valley College nursing instructor has joined three fellow instructors in being chosen as an "Outstanding Educator for 1973".

Mrs. Betty Hedrick, coordinator of the nursing program at West Valley, was named this week. She joins Gloria Hom, John Nicholas and DeBoyd Smith, who were selected the last previous week.

Nominated earlier this year for this national recognition, Mrs. Hedrick was selected on the basis of her professional and civic achievements.

Outstanding Educators of America is an annual awards program honoring distinguished men and women for their exceptional service, achievements and leadership in the field of education.

Mrs. Hedrick has been at West Valley since 1966. She received her B.S. and M.S. degrees in nursing from Loma Linda University and has taken additional course work at the University of California. In addition to her teaching background, Mrs. Hedrick also served as a staff nurse at hospitals in Texas and the Los Angeles area.

Rebekah's hold rummage sale

Christmas decorations, antiques, jewelry and toys are a few of the items going on sale here Friday and Saturday, May 4 and 5, as Josephine Rebekah's 14, Independent Order of Odd Fellows of San Jose, hold their "off-season" rummage sale.

Proceeds go toward support of the Children's Home at Gilroy, where presently some 67 children reside.

The sale begins at 9 a.m., at 342 Campbell Ave., and continues each day until 5 p.m.

Mrs. Stan Edmonds is chairman of the sale, assisted by Mrs. Conrad Hale and Mrs. Robert Hones.

Drama given to church group

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the First United Methodist Church of Campbell will hold their monthly meeting on Thursday, April 19, at 10 a.m.

The program will be a cycle of plays of Lent, "Eyes Upon the Cross" written by Donald Mueller and produced by special arrangement with Baker's Plays of Boston, Mass.

The plays will be given by the Drama Group of the Cambrian Park United Methodist Church, led by Mickie Borland, drama coach.

A business meeting will precede the program, with the luncheon served by the Mary Circle.

Child care will be provided.

Grange News

The Orchard City Grange will hold a luncheon sponsored by the Ladies Luncheon League at noon, Thursday, April 12, at the Grange Hall, 109 North First St., Campbell. Donation is $1.50.

Friday, April 13, the Orchard City Grange Committee on Women's Activities will meet at the Grange Hall from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Florence Sheffer, District Five chairman and Helen Smith, Committee on Women's Activities chairman will be special guests at the meeting.

TO HELP YOU FEEL ACQUAINTED
- We believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.
- That righteousness is simply "rightness".
- That there is no one that is righteous.
- That through faith in Christ's death for us, God forgives our past sins.
- That through this forgiveness we can have fellowship with God, person to Person.

Adult classes available now

Adult Education is on the increase both in attendance and interest in new classes, according to Robert Culp, curriculum coordinator of the Metropolitan Adult Education Program.

"Residents are discovering it's fun to go back to school and they are taking classes to improve themselves, not frills." One hundred twenty-five classes are filled representing a 30 to 35% increase. Classes range from Education for Childbirth to Office Occupations, Keypunch, American Government, Clothing, Medical Terminology, General Psychology and Spelling & Vocabulary.

There are still many classes open for enrollment. A full program of Education for Childbirth rotates on a year around basis. Many started March 19 and are still open. A brochure containing information is available in doctors' offices.

Office skills training is open anytime space is available. There are classes in typing, bookkeeping, taxes & payroll, supervision, career planning and complete information about Certificate Programs is available at the Campbell Administrative Center, 1224 Del Mar Ave., San Jose 95128.

Electronics Assembly, Dry Cleaning, Painting & Decorating, Household Maintenance Hints, Machine Shop, Welding, etc. are open for adults at the Regional Vocational Center, 760 Hillsdale Ave., San Jose.

Listing of mid-term classes is in the February issue of MAEP POST at all adult education centers and libraries.

"This is the best bargain in education for adults," says Lee Clark, Director of MAEP.

TENT SHOWS

In 1927, at the zenith of their popularity, about 400 traveling tent theater companies in this country visited 16,000 communities and played to 78 million customers.

Speaking OF taxes

by Pat Safford, vice president of the Greater Bay Area chapter of the Assn. of Enrolled Agents

Q—ARE VETERINARY BILLS DEDUCTIBLE?

A—NO. Unless you incur these fees as part of a business (kennel, animal breeder, etc.) these are not deductions. In the case of persons raising animals for sale, veterinary fees would be a business expense.

In order to claim a deduction for medical expense the fees must be paid for either the taxpayer, a dependent, or, except for earning more than $750 income, an individual who would otherwise qualify as your dependent. Your dog, cat or horse DOES NOT qualify as your dependent regardless of how much the hay bill is.

A CASUALTY LOSS??

The Fresno IRS Service Center has been receiving returns with the deduction for casualty losses prepared incorrectly SO if you are claiming such a loss please note:

After determining your loss you must first DEDUCT amounts you received from insurance as reimbursement. Finally, you deduct $100 from the remaining amount before arriving at your deductible loss. IRS spokesmen announced recently that some taxpayers are adding both the insurance reimbursement AND the $100 to their casualty deductions.

*Note: Part of this confusion is due to the instructions on Schedule A. On the form this year they ask you to ADD both reimbursement and the $100 before computing your casualty loss. The final line 30 of Schedule A then asks you to list the "Excess of line 26 over line 29." By this time many individuals are so confused they add rather than subtract the totals.

An example: Last year your home was robbed and your actual loss was $2,400. Your insurance company sent you a check for $1,500. Your casualty loss would be as follows:

|---|---|
| Loss... | $2,400.00 |
| reimbursement | 1,500.00 |
| limitation | 100.00 |
| | 1,600.00 |

loss $2,400
less ( 1,600)
casualty loss...$800.00

Q—ON THE ITEMIZED DEDUCTION PART OF MY FEDERAL RETURN IT SAYS TO LIST WHAT I PAID FOR TRANSPORTATION FOR MEDICAL CARE. HOW DO I FIGURE THIS?

A—You may deduct six cents per mile for traveling to and from your doctor's office, dentist's office or drug store. Instead of this you may deduct your actual cost for gasoline. Many people overlook this deduction in filing out their tax return.

In addition; if you travel out of town to receive medical attention you may deduct the cost of your airfare (for example), your lodging expense and meals if you are required to be away overnight to obtain medical treatment.

An average family, with trips to the orthodontist, hospital emergency room and doctors' offices can easily put in several hundred miles a year in medical transportation costs. If you travel 300 miles a year (and many people have much more than this) the deduction for transportation costs would be $18.00 (.06 X 300). Don't forget to add parking and toll fees to this amount (if you had this expense).

THREE HELPERS — Last Saturday students and parents at Castlemont School continued their school beautification program as they planted trees along the school's parking strip. Pictured above are Brian Dressler, Ron Breschini and Alan Woodle.

PLANT AND SWEEP — Castlemont School students and parents are pictured above as they worked to plant trees along the school's parking strip. According to Principal Dave McCloud, the April 7 project saw cub scouts, brownies and boy scouts lending their helping hands too.

OUT IN THE SUN — While most of us took to the beaches to enjoy a rare sunny day here last Saturday, Castlemont School students and parents labored to improve their school grounds. Shown above planting trees are Andrea Gorman, Jill Taylor, Marcia Shigemoto, Christi Richeson, Laura Holmes, Kathy Burdick and Laura Demsey.

CAMPBELL RESIDENT—Mrs. Joyce Busack was presented her auxiliary emblem recently at Good Samaritan Hospital. She is shown above at the reception and information desk at Good Samaritan.

ADMITTING
RECEPTION-INFORMA

Eighty-three junior and senior members of The Good Samaritan Hospital Auxiliary of Santa Clara Valley gained full membership status with receipt of the auxiliary emblem at presentation ceremonies held recently in the hospital chapel.

Following an invocation by the Rev. William B. Murdock, hospital trustee, and a welcome by hospital administrator Robert K. Kirk, the emblems were presented as each volunteer was introduced by Mrs. G. Albert Baroni, second vice-president and membership chairman, and Mrs. Clifton Axt, junior membership chairman.

Mrs. Jack Shirley of Campbell, auxiliary president, greeted guests and welcomed the new volunteers who will devote many hours of their time to serve patients at the hospital.

Juniors representing Campbell were Denise Tripoli and Kathleen Morgan, and senior members Catherine Farley and Mabel Farley.

Churches prepare for Easter services

Palm Sunday, April 15, marks the beginning of Holy Week and several local churches have special services for that day.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

The Congregational Church of Campbell, 400 W. Campbell Ave., will have a Palm Sunday Processional at the 10 a.m. service.

Members of the congregation are requested to bring branches or flowers and meet at the church mall at 9:45 a.m. when the procession to the church will begin.

Topic of the sermon to be given by Rev. A. W. Myers is "'S' is for Service."

FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Three choirs of young people will be featured at the 9 and 10:30 a.m. worship services of the First United Methodist Church of Campbell, 1675 Winchester Blvd.

The Choraliers will sing "The Whole Bright World"; "Hosanna! Hosanna!" will be sung by the Cherubs' choir, who will appear in their new choir robes on this special occasion, and the Wesley Singers will present "Chime of Easter Time."

Minister of the morning will be Rev. Thomas P. Grissom, superintendent of the San Jose District.

The topic of the sermon will be "A new man in town."

ST. LAWRENCE EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Members of St. Lawrence Episcopal Church, 65 Rincon Ave., will have a blessing and procession of palms from the social hall to the church immediately preceding the 10 a.m. worship service.

ST. LUCY'S CHURCH

St. Lucy's Catholic Church, 2350 Winchester Blvd., will have a blessing and procession of the palms at 9 a.m. Palm Sunday. Other masses are 5:15 p.m. Saturday evening, Sunday at 7 and 10:30 a.m., noon and 7 p.m.

ST. THOMAS OF CANTERBURY CHURCH

Blessing and distribution of palms will take place on Saturday, April 14, at the 5:15 p.m. mass at St. Thomas of Canterbury Church, 1522 McCoy Ave., San Jose.

Palms will also be distributed at the 8, 9:45, 11 a.m. and 12:15 masses on Palm Sunday.

Grandmothers Club plans Easter bonnet parade

Ladies will parade in their Easter bonnets as the Grandmothers Club meets on Wednesday, April 18, at 12 noon at St. Thomas Episcopal Church.

Spring fashions, humorous skits and musical entertainment will also highlight the meeting. Hostess for the day is Catherine Pomerleau, with Carmen Wedlake and Ethel Ryan assisting.

Campbell women are invited to join the group, which is now also planning a two-day trip to Reno in later April.

For further information, contact Marie Ojeda at 739-0733.

FROM daVINCI

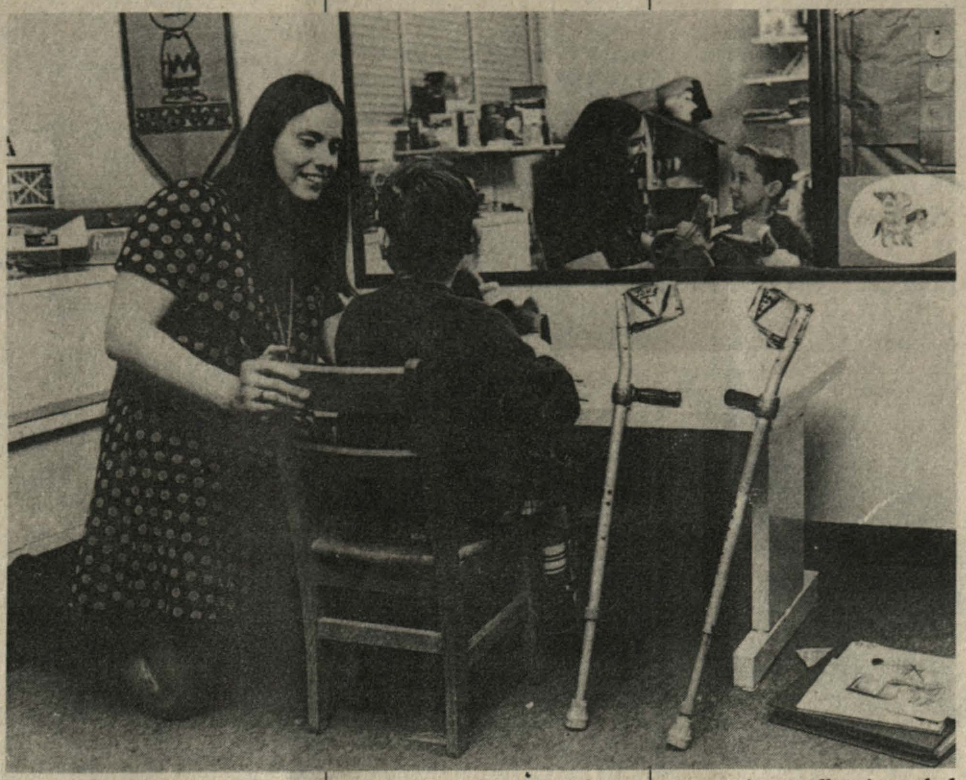
Much of what we know about aircraft design and the fundamentals of flight comes from an earlier examination of birds, notably the studies of Leonardo da Vinci.



THERAPIST HAS A VISITOR—Mrs. David Squier, senior speech therapist at the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Santa Clara County, shows Ambassador Boy John Lavelle, 5, a student at Moorpark School, how hand puppets and a wall mirror help speech - impaired youngsters learn to speak correctly. John is a victim of cerebral palsy.

Informal approach used by speech therapist

Aphasia can happen to anyone. When it occurs, such everyday activities as phoning a friend, shopping for groceries, or answering the doorbell can call up a surge of anxiety and dread in the one who is so-afflicted.

Aphasia is the loss or impairment of the power to use or understand speech, resulting from a brain lesion as a result of a stroke or a blow to the head.

Mrs. David Squier (Judy), senior speech therapist at the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Santa Clara County, has given speech instruction to many men and women experiencing communications impairment, or aphasia, often caused by stroke.

Speech therapy, on a one-to-one basis, is an absolute must for re-learning speech and related communications skills, but Judy found that her clients were eager to join the group-therapy sessions she then organized.

Presently, the adult group meets weekly at the Easter Seal Society for an hour of socializing and therapy. Working with Judy in the aphasia projedt is Mrs. Tom Walker (Kay), who joined the society as a speech therapist in October. Together, they encourage the members of the "club" to express themselves as informally as possible.

The dynamics of the group maximizes an awareness in each individual of his own strength, and he is given a chance to display his best achievements, such as reading, or speaking before the group.

Often, the most severely handicapped members require prodding and encouragement to make even the merest contribution; it is they who benefit most from the group's approval as they take their new skills and confidence out into the everyday world of communication.

New for the group are monthly meetings in members' homes for potluck meals or coffee and dessert.

Adults who want informaon aphasia therapy or the group sessions should call Mrs. Squier at the Easter Seal Society office, 2000 West Hedding St., San Jose.

Attention senior citizens

The West Valley Progressive Senior Citizens Center, 41 W. Rincon Ave., Campbell, wants the public to know they are a service center. The services cover transportation to doctor's offices, hospitals, or clinics to help get needed medical attention.

The office helps with Property Assistance forms, Medicare and Medical forms, insurance forms for all companies or any forms necessary to obtain needed help.

A Mini-Bus leaves the Center at 9:30 a.m., every Thurs day to take seniors shopping, picks them up after shopping for prescriptions, food stamps. etc.

The sole purpose of the center is to help senior citizens. Their phone number is 378-5323.

* * * *

A Consumers Exchange is also featured at the center. The consumers exchange is a store that sells handmade articles or antiques on a consignment basis (80% to member and 20% to the store).

The store helps members make extra money to buy the needed supplies that pensions or Social Security checks will not cover. Call 378-5323.

The Center also sells good used clothing in order to help seniors with their budgets.

'Operation Farnham Face Lift' swings into its second phase

On Saturday, March 31, the Home and School Club of the Martin H. Farnham School, 15711 Woodard Rd., sponsored the second phase of "Operation Farnham Face Lift." Students, parents and teachers joined efforts to continue the improvement of the school grounds and building, a year-long operation which was first launched in October of last year.

"The Farnham Face Lift," explains principal M. Earl Peltz, has been sponsored by the Home and School Club of the Farnham School in an effort to involve the school and home in a project that will foster pride in the appearance of the school building and grounds. It is hoped that this involvement will also develop a feeling of responsibility in the students and that all classrooms will now become interested in some beautification or improvement project at the school.

In the October phase of the "Face Lift," quad benches, lunch tables and benches were sanded and repainted and classroom doors were scrubbed and repainted. Soon after this, the Maintenance Department of the Cambrian School District, began the job of giving the walls of the school building a new coat of paint.

The most enthusiastic helpers on Saturday were fourth, fifth and sixth graders who worked along with their parents, teachers and younger students to give the classroom doors and benches a second coat of paint. The work crew, headed by Home and School Club Co-Presidents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Matson, also spruced up the school grounds by raking, pruning and cultivating.

According to Mr. Peltz, this second "Face Lift" was timed to have Farnham School looking its best for Open House on Thursday evening, April 12. At that time, the Home and School Club is serving an Enchilada Dinner in the Farnham School cafetorium.

PATIENCE...PATIENCE

A 19-year-old West Valley college coed had a personal encounter with one man's temper here recently ... and lost.

According to reports, eastbound traffic on Campbell Avenue began to slow when a motorist stopped to talk with a pedestrian. The car crawled along at a snail's pace and traffic piled up.

As motorists sounded their horns the man jumped from his car yelling, "Don't honk at me."

After entering his car the slow procession continued and when motorists again honked at the driver he sprang from his car and with the admonition, "I TOLD you not to honk!," kicked in the right front fender of the coed's car behind him.

YOUTH COUNCIL REPORTS

by Don Angelo

Come and join the fun at St. Lucy's Youth Council's Pancake Breakfast.

It will be on Palm Sunday, April 15, after all the masses.

There will be orange juice, coffee, milk, sausage and all the pancakes you can eat. All for only $1.25 and 75 cents for children.

So bring the whole family and gobble your cares away.

CAMBRIAN DISTRICT—Jack M. Farnham, a resident of the Cambrian School District for 19 years, is seeking reelection in the election next Tuesday, April 17. Farnham, a self-employed general engineering contractor, has been active in sponsoring youth activities in the district since 1954.

In his campaign statement, Farnham maintains that a well-balanced school board needs experienced members and that education, in his opinion, means giving each child the opportunity to receive as much of instructional program as his interest, ambition and ability will carry him.

MOORPARK STUDENTS--- State Senator Clark Bradley of the 14th District greeted Ambassador Boy John Lavelle, 5, and County Easter Seal Child, Patrick Armstrong, 8, at the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Santa Clara County offices. Both boys, residents of San Jose, attend Moorpark School. The Annual Easter Seal Campaign, which runs through April 22, raises funds to provide programs for the handicapped.

NOT A POLICE MATTER

Recently a small, dark-haired woman rushed into the Campbell Police Station and up to the desk.

"This is not strictly a police matter," she explained, "but I need some help."

The woman, visiting in the San Jose area from Vancouver, Washington, was lost and needed directions to reach Highway 5.

The woman was given written directions but, before she left, the dispatcher asked her why she didn't stop at a service station for directions.

"On my way down here," she retorted, "I DID get directions from a man in a service station. I followed them carefully and ended up in Los Angeles!"
